Onur Ravli Resume – March 2024

Summary

As a junior year computer science and engineering student at Konya Technical University, I bring a solid foundation in full-stack development with firsthand experience gained through internships. Proficient in a diverse tech stack including TypeScript, Python, Node.js, and various databases. A recipient of the TÜBİTAK BİÇABA Scholarship, my academic pursuits also include participation in innovative research projects. As an active member of the UCTEA Chamber of Computer Engineering and the GitHub Developer Program, I am dedicated to continuous learning and growth in the field.
